

Terms & Conditions

1. Introduction

- Name of the company and software.
- Purpose of the T&Cs.
- Statement about agreement by accessing or using the software.

2. Definitions

- Clearly define terms like "software," "services," "user," "license," etc.

3. Acceptance of Terms

- State that using the software implies acceptance of the T&Cs.
- Mention that continued use after updates implies agreement to revised terms.

4. License Grant and Restrictions

- Specify the type of license provided (e.g., limited, non-exclusive, non-transferable).
- Outline any restrictions (e.g., no reverse engineering, redistribution, or unauthorized use).

5. User Obligations

- Users must provide accurate information during registration.
- Prohibited behaviours (e.g., illegal activities, sharing access, or misuse).

6. Intellectual Property

- Clarify ownership of the software and associated intellectual property.
- Mention trademarks, copyrights, and any third-party software included.

7. Fees and Payment Terms

- If the software is paid, describe subscription or one-time payment details.
- Refund policy, if applicable.

8. Privacy Policy

- Reference or include details about how user data is collected, stored, and used.

9. Limitation of Liability

- State the company's liability limits for damages arising from use of the software.

10. Warranty Disclaimer

- State whether the software is provided "as is" and disclaim warranties, if applicable.

11. Updates and Modifications

- Notify users about updates to the software or T&Cs.
- Reserve the right to modify or discontinue the software.

12. Termination

- Outline conditions under which the company may terminate the user's license or access.
- Describe user obligations after termination (e.g., deleting software).

13. Governing Law

- Specify the jurisdiction and governing law for disputes.

14. Dispute Resolution

- Include details about arbitration, mediation, or court proceedings for resolving disputes.

15. Third-Party Services

- Note any integrations or dependencies on third-party services and disclaim liability for them.

16. Indemnification

- Require users to indemnify the company against claims arising from their misuse of the software.

17. Contact Information

- Provide an address or email for user queries regarding the T&Cs.

18. Miscellaneous

- Include provisions for severability, entire agreement, and force majeure.